Winslow Lewis

AS the Reputation of the Harleian Library muſt, doubtleſs, have raiſed in the Learned a Deſire of viewing it before its Diſperſion, the preſent Proprietor hopes, it will be conſidered as an Inſtance of Willingneſs, to gratify the Public, that the Books, enumerated in the Catalogue, will be exhibited to View at the Library in St. Mary Le Bon, from the Tenth to the Twenty-eighth of March, from Nine in the Morning to Six in the Afternoon; and intreats thoſe Gentlemen and Ladies, who ſhall think this great Collection worthy of their Curioſity, not to delay the Viſit beyond the Time appointed, ſome Interval being neceſſary to regulate the Books which the Spectators may diſplace, and to make other Preparations for the Sale, which will begin on Thurſday the Seventh of April, the loweſt Price marked in each Book, and continue till public Notice is given, in the News-Papers, of its Concluſion.

THOUGH theſe Volumes have been drawn up with all the Care that could be allowed by the Neceſſity of ſo ſpeedy Publication, it is intended that thoſe, which are to ſucceed, ſhall be more methodically digeſted, more accurately printed, and interſperſed with more frequent Obſervations; and at the End will be added, an exact Index of all the Authors, with References to the Numbers in which they occur, after the Manner of Bullialdus's Index to the Bibliotheca Thuaniana.

The Author of this Hiſtory, who underſtood the Language of Ceylon as well as his own, and was a Priſoner in that that Iſland near twenty Years, wanted neither Opportunity, nor Capacity, to attain a thorough Knowledge of the Place he deſcribes; and the learned Dr. Hook, in his Preface to this Relation, wherein he highly extols its Excellency and Uſefulneſs, aſſures us, that Mr. Knox has inſerted nothing in it, but what he was either an Eye-witneſs of himſelf, or received from the beſt Authority. The Map the Author has given of Ceylon is new and exact, deſigned from his own Obſervations made on the Spot.

11536 The Antiquities of Palmyra, containing the Hiftory of the City, and its Emperors, from its Foundation to the preſent Time, with Cuts —— —— —— 1696

Palmyra, now called Faid Sanfoni, fituated in Syria, on the Borders of Arabia Deferta, was formerly a famous and flouriſhing Metropolis; which the learned Gerard John Voſſius, in his Treatiſe on Idolatry, takes to be the ſame with Tadmor in the Wilderneſs, ſpoken of in 2 Kings ix. 18, and to have been built by Solomon. The Author of the above-mentioned Antiquities of Palmyra, Abraham Seller, agrees with Voſſius, as to Palmyra's being the ſame with Tadmor; but he is of Opinion, that Solomon was rather the Reſtorer than the firſt Founder of this ancient City. In his curious and elaborate Work, tho' Halliſax and Halley, celebrated Writers, had treated on this Argument before him, he has made ſeveral new and important tant Discoveries; to which he has added critical Observations, on the Religion and Form of Government of Palmyra, with an Explanation of Inscriptions lately found in that Part of the World.
